Summary

I've been designing for a good majority of my life. Along the way, I've had the pleasure of meeting and learning from incredibly talented individuals. This is more than a career choice. It is my means of expression. If words ever fail me, my designs will continue to speak for themselves. Currently freelancing for my company inkOne Art.

2 person has recommended Carlos

"There's a saying that if you want something done well it won't be very fast and vice-versa. Carlos Donoso defies this statement on a daily basis. With an ability to turn around high quality work with an amazing speed, he is the person I call when I need something done right, and right now. His artistic ability is seconded only by his enthusiasm for the work at hand. He's an asset to any project, and someone I call when I need quality work."

— Robert Corredor, worked directly with Carlos at Digital Krayon

"I've not only studied with Carlos, but have the absolute pleasure of having him as a mentor and confidant to all things creative. While with him I learned a vast deal of extremely vital and useful knowledge in the realm of effective design. Carlos by far has the biggest imagination and creativity bank from any individual I've encountered. Sit with him for just a few minutes and you are blown aback by his, and pardon my platitudinous words but, sheer genius. His keen sense of unremarkable ease in taking a concept from thought to fruition is uncanny. His art is like poetry; each pixel colorfully flowing through the screen and demanding your attention. His level, and attention, to detail is impeccable. His mastery of color is amazing. Combine this with how fast he can turn a graphic around, and you have yourself a creative weapon at your disposal. One of the hardest working individuals I know; having him means having results. I highly recommend the young talent of Carlos Donoso, any day of the week."
